Humana, Tempur Sealy are recognized as co-Grand Award winners for Kentucky Public Company of the Year

iBook release profiles Kentucky's best performing public companies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (June 17, 2015) – Lexington-based Tempur Sealy International, Inc. (NYSE: TPX) and the Louisville healthcare insurer Humana Inc. (NYSE: HUM) won honors as Kentucky's best performing public companies in ceremonies held at the 2015 INVESTKentucky Equity Conference.

Tempur Sealy, an international bedding manufacturer and marketer, and Humana, a wellness and healthcare company, tied for the top rating based on performance criteria developed by a special selection committee. Texas Roadhouse, Inc. (NASDAQ: TXRH) and Papa Johns International, Inc. (NASDAQ: PZZA) were recognized as finalists for the award.

"It's an honor to be included in this group of iconic Kentucky companies, and an even greater honor to be named a co-winner," said Tempur Sealy International, Inc. Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President Dale Williams. "We appreciate the thorough research that INVESTKentucky did as part of the process, and on behalf of our more than 400 Kentucky-based team members and more than 6,500 employees worldwide, we are thankful for the recognition."

"We at Humana are honored to be recognized as a co-recipient of this meaningful award," said Humana Chief Financial Officer Brian Kane. "We deeply appreciate the support of the investment community and want to thank INVESTKentucky for all it does to bring together investors and Kentucky's public companies."

An iBook has been released that features the Kentucky Company of the Year Grand Winners and Finalists and details about the 2015 INVESTKentucky Equity Conference. The iBook is available as a free download from the Apple iBooks Store from any iPad or Mac, or after June 30, from iPhones running IOS 8.4. To download the iBook, developed

Representatives from the CFA Society Louisville and the Louisville chapter of Financial Executives International comprised the selection committee which approved and applied the selection criteria to determine the winners and finalists. Included were accounting and market performance metrics such as return on assets, return on equity, revenue growth, total shareholder return and change in market value for a two-year period.

The committee asked each company to provide information about strategy, philanthropy and employment to determine a winner in the event of a tie, but decided for the inaugural award that the winning companies deserved to be recognized based on quantitative rankings rather than qualitative measures.

The four companies were presented awards at a ceremony held at the INVESTKentucky Equity Conference (www.investky.com), a biennial event which provides professional investors and analysts the opportunity to interact with top Kentucky public company executives. Texas Roadhouse and Papa John's received Finalist Awards.

"We appreciate the recognition by InvestKentucky and are honored to be a part of the inaugural group of finalists," said Tonya Robinson, Senior Director of Investor Relations and Financial Reporting at Texas Roadhouse, Inc. "Our continued success is driven by the dedication of our employees to serving our guests with a smile and exceeding their expectations each and every visit."

Said Lance Tucker, Senior Vice President and CFO of Papa John's: "We're proud to be part of this group of distinguished Kentucky public companies recognized for our performance. We work to build upon our success by continually challenging ourselves to improve customer experience each and every day."

INVESTKentucky Chairman Terry McWilliams added, "We're proud to recognize and honor these top performing Kentucky public companies which provide so many opportunities while they serve consumers in the United States as well as internationally."
